

A close-up photograph of a man's face and hands peering through horizontal window blinds. The blinds are white and create a series of horizontal lines across the frame. The man's eyes are wide and focused, looking towards the right. His hands are visible, holding the edges of the blinds. The lighting is bright, creating strong highlights and shadows.

If it feels like they're watching,
it's because they are.

They're the Government Regulatory Agencies.

And they're watching with more inspectors.

More regulations.

And more ways for you to make a mistake or fall out of compliance with VOC regulations. The protocols arising from Canada's signing of the Kyoto Accord will certainly benefit the environment, but will just as certainly require a lot more attention, and spending, from you – unless you think strategically and preemptively by getting in touch with the CLEAN Alliance.

CLEAN stands for Closed Loop Environmental Alliance Network – a strategic partnership designed to help the printing and graphic arts industries adopt the regulations of the Kyoto Accord and the Government regulators in the most efficient, cost-effective manner possible.

Your turnkey solution for VOC concerns and Government regulations.

The CLEAN Alliance is a single source solution, a turnkey operation that helps ensure your compliance while minimizing or even eliminating your need to focus on wipe disposal, blanket wash disposal, paperwork, complex regulations, audits, reports, employee training, spill containment, hazardous material disposal – virtually every aspect of dealing with the environmental concerns faced by the printing and graphic arts industries.

CLEAN is a strategic system. We bring together the best products and services, cost-saving prices, and a network of professionals. Together they focus on efficient handling of your environmental obligations, so you can focus on your business.

Are you prepared to deal with the new protocol without CLEAN?

Ask yourself the following questions. You'll see how prepared you are for the new Government regulations. If you're not ready, CLEAN can get you started the right way.

Your state of readiness. Do you have:

- A well-conceived on-premises recycling program?
- The appropriate on-site recycling equipment?
- Proper disposal procedures for absorbents and spill containment products?

The paper trail.

Are you:

- Getting proper laboratory analysis of your hazardous wastestreams prior to disposal?
- Tracking generated waste classes as required?
- Generating the proper report annually?

Legal preparedness.

Are you:

- Conversant with Transportation of Dangerous Goods regulations concerning the barrels used for waste?
- Well-versed in compliance and regulatory legislation and how they affect your facility?
- Managing your liability issues before they become a problem?

Personnel power.

Do you have:

- Full-time environmental staff?
- A health & safety committee?

Cost-savings.

Do you have:

- An environmentally friendly reusable ink wiper rental program?
- A rental uniform program for employees?
- The most cost-efficient absorbents and spill containment products?
